Chamber commences Red Ribbon activities

BY JANET MCQUEEN

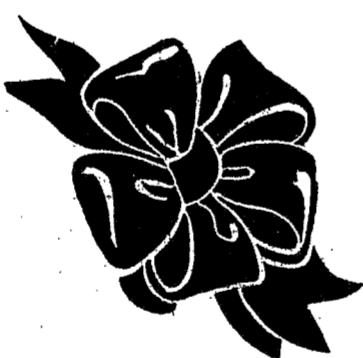

Although it's still November, area businesses are already feeling a boost in sales, according to Chamber of Commerce executive director Cindy Vernon.

The Chamber's plans for the annual Red Ribbon Christmas Celebration are featured in a special tabloid edition in today's paper.

Holiday activities begin Saturday with a "White Light Christmas" in downtown Bay St. Louis, where businesses will be decorated with red bows and twinkling white lights.

The annual holiday parade will wind through the streets of Bay St. Louis December 5. Beginning at Beach Boulevard at Highway 90, the parade will turn up Main Street, turning right on Dunbar Avenue. Santa and his entourage will proceed across 90 to Highland Drive, where the final stop is the second annual Toys for Tots Charity Football Game.

Other events December 5 include several open houses at local businesses, a community tree lighting in Kiln, a Christmas concert at Main Street United Methodist Church and tree lighting at the Courthouse.

The Coast Youth Ballet Ensemble will present The Nutcracker in the Bay High auditorium to a sold-out crowd at 7:30. Tickets are still available for an encore performance the following day at 1 p.m. The Bay High Fine Arts Association is co-sponsor of the event.

On December 6 Waveland will celebrate the season with a "Festival of Lights" from 5-8 on Coleman Avenue with strolling carolers, live entertainment, trolley rides and free goodies from Coleman merchants.

Pass Christian prepares special gambling district

The Pass Christian Board of Aldermen will review a planning commission recommendation December 1 for the establishment of a special use gaming district.

The recommendation follows concerns that the city will have more control over dockside gambling should it be approached by a potential developer.

The special use gaming district can be adopted as an amendment to the present city's zoning ordinance. If passed, the district will join six others.

The city of Gulfport's designation of five commercial areas where dockside gambling will be allowed prompted Pass Christian's actions.

Gulfport approved the areas after an attorney general's opinion prohibited cities from excluding dockside gambling through zoning laws.

The present recommendation requires a property minimum of five acres. The Pass Christian Planning Commission is expected to suggest the board include the word "contiguous" in describing the number of minimum acres.

The city has stated it wishes to concentrate on small business development rather than gambling possibilities.

Pass Christian states within recent months, it has received no inquiries by gaming interests.

Those interested in addressing the proposed zoning ordinance changes should write the Pass Christian Planning Commission, Pass Christian City Hall, by December 15.

Attorneys to divide mosquito commission

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Attorneys representing Hancock, Harrison and Jackson counties agreed November 19 to meet and settle how the tri-county mosquito commission will divide property, assets and liabilities.

Harrison county commissioners Ann Stewart and Wayne Berry reported Harrison County is out, and wants its share of the commission's assets.

Stewart said Harrison County has begun purchasing equipment and intends to begin its own mosquito control program by January 1.

Hancock County Chancery Clerk Mike Necaise and attorney Gerald Gex made an appeal to Harrison County representatives to remain with the three county commission, citing the economic benefits.

Stewart added Hancock has good reason to wish Harrison's continued support, as it contributed the least financially and along with Jackson County received the most in services.

Stewart and Berry left the meeting, saying they under-

Shoreline Park man drowns

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Anthony Falco, 69, of 5047 Logan Street, was found drowned approximately 5 p.m. Sunday behind his residence in one of the Shoreline Park bayous, Hancock Sheriff Ronnie Peterson reported.

According to Peterson, "Falco's wife, Sybil Falco, reported her husband missing two hours after he left home.

Mrs. Falco called her daughter, Alatia Falco Russell, who along with deputies Steve Garber and Terry Roberson searched for Falco.

He said, Garber attempted to revive Falco, who was discovered in the bayou behind his home.

Mobile Medic transported Falco to Hancock Medical Center, Peterson added, where he was pronounced dead.

Peterson stated, Falco suffered from Parkinson's Disease, and he may have fallen into the water.

Deputy Travis Foreman is in charge of the investigation.

Bond refinancing saves Hancock school dollars

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Hancock School Board members approved conditions of a new loan agreement Monday, which will pay off $5 million in bonds owed after July 1997, at a $100,284 savings.

The current bond agreement restricts the district from early payoff until July 1997, 10 years after the original issuance of $6.6 million in bonds used for the construction of Hancock High School.

It is like refinancing your house," stated James W. Young Jr. of the Jackson law firm of Brunini, Grantham, Grower & Hewes.

According to Young, the district is borrowing $5 million from Trustmark National Bank. This money will be placed into an escrow account which will accumulate interest until July of 1997. These monies, plus interest, will be withdrawn and utilized to pay off the original bond.

The new bonds will take advantage of lower interest rates.

The district's savings is calculated after payment of attorneys, accountants and insurers.

Young said the accounting has been verified to the penny. The only area in which he foresees any possible change is in escrow account interest, which may fluctuate slightly.

The new bonds are calculated under the same time frame of payment as the previous bonds, ending January 2008.

Toys for Tots football court solicits votes for good cause

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

The search for a Queen and Princess to reign over the second annual Toys for Tots football game has begun.

As part of the developing program, this year, all elementary school principals within Hancock County were invited to submit the names of two students, one kindergartener (Princess) and one sixth grader (Queen), to represent their schools on the Toys for Tots football court.

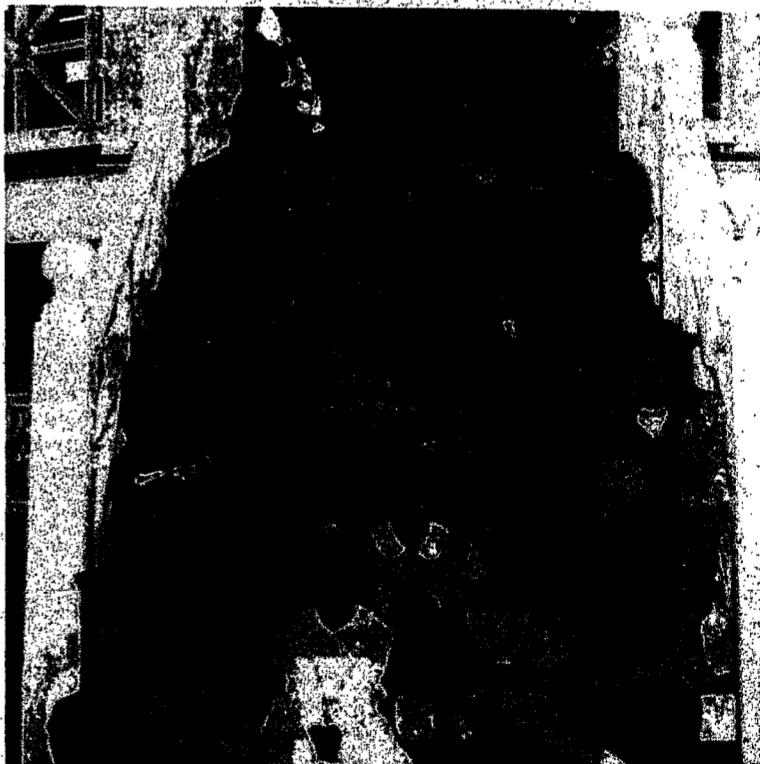

The titles of Queen and Princess are then earned as contestants solicit funds by requesting a penny a vote. All funds raised will be presented to the Hancock County Doll and Toy Fund, which distributed toys to over 1,200 children countywide last year.

Schools participating this year include: Waveland Elementary, North Bay Elementary, Bay Middle School, St. Clare Catholic Elementary, Gulfview Elementary and Charles B. Murphy Elementary.

Representing their respective schools in the Princess category are: Mallory Bourgeois, Waveland; Ashley Seira Johnson, North Bay; Ashley Lady, St. Clare; Morgan Necaise, Gulfview; and Christine Singleton, Charles B. Murphy.

Students participating in the Queen contest are: Jessica Bonano, Gulfview; Tiffany Spencer, Charles B. Murphy, and Ashley Combs, St. Clare; and Tiffany Savarese, Bay Middle.

County unemployment rate drops slightly

Hancock County's September unemployment rate dropped 1% from the previous month's figure of 8% as reported by the Mississippi Employment Security Commission (MESC).

According to MESC, the civilian labor force in Hancock was 14,620 persons in September, up from 14,050 in August. September 1991 listed 13,750 persons.

The national average for September was 7.2%; the state average was 8.0%.

Unemployment rates for surrounding counties were: Harrison, 6.9%; Pearl River, 9.7%; and Stone, 11.7%.

OLG parish issues Thanksgivings baskets

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

In keeping with Thanksgiving tradition, Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church St. Vincent de Paul Society and Catholic Youth Organization members prepared baskets for deserving residents.

Contents for the baskets, which included turkey certificates and numerous grocery items, were collected from OLG and CCD members and Bay Catholic and Our Lady Academy students.

A total of 84 baskets were put together by St. Vincent and CYO members Sunday morning and were picked up by deserving families in the afternoon, said Mrs. Earl Salaun, spokesman.

Our Lady of the Gulf St. Vincent de Paul Society and CYO members have been providing Thanksgiving baskets for the past seven years.

Names of deserving families were collected through Community Action Agency, the Welfare Department, and some applications were made to the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

Good Citizen

Coast Episcopal High School senior Ellen McRaney is the recipient of the 1992-93 Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizen Award. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike McRaney of Ocean Springs. The following weekend a number of Highway businesses and downtown merchants will offer open houses.

Santa will be guest of honor at a breakfast for children at Waveland Resort Inn at 8 a.m. At 2 p.m., the ever-popular "Singing Santa" will greet children at the Chamber office.

"We are really excited about the holiday season," said Vernon. "Our main focus is to encourage people to shop at home. Keeping our dollars in the county is an investment in our economy and our future."

For additional information on any of the events, call the Chamber office at 467-9048, or contact any of the participating merchants.

"The baskets were made available to deserving families only through the generosity of the people of the parish," Mrs. Salaun said.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Today marks Thanksgiving, a national holiday for Americans.

As Americans we need to be thankful to God, because of the many things we have.

We can think of just 1990, when many of our young men and women were facing the dilemma of Desert Shield at Thanksgiving.

Many of these men and women were from our own county.

Thankfully, each and every one who was involved with Desert Shield/Storm from our county, were able to return home.

There are still threats to world peace, but, in recent years the Berlin Wall has fallen and Communism has come tumbling down.

At this Thanksgiving our men and women in uniform protecting our peace, probably have fewer fears than they have had in the past 50 years.

True, there are many nations of the world 'war torn' at this time, and many dying for a lack of food.

We have those trying to bring food to the hungry unable to do so, because of fighting in many of the countries.

In our nation things are going great for the majority of citizens, yet, everything is not good for all, as we still have the hungry, unemployed and homeless.

As Americans, we still have so many 'good' things going for us, and we need to be thankful today and concerned about those of our nation and the world not as fortunate as we are.

I wish each and everyone of you a very Happy Thanksgiving.

I received a telephone call from Bay St. Louis Councilman John Wilkerson on Monday. He told me he had heard rumors that he had a heart attack last week.

Wilkerson reported that he did not have a heart attack, just a fainting spell and he was doing well and undergoing some tests.

Many will be sending Christmas cards and gifts by mail this holiday season.

Our post offices will be flooded once again with mail and packages and it is a good idea to mail your items early.

There are those who will be sending packages to our men and women in uniform, and these should be sent by Dec. 1, for SAM, Dec. 7, for Priority mail and PAL, and December 10 for first class mail and cards.

It is good to receive a package when one is away from home, especially those in the military.

The earlier you mail a package or card, the better the chances are that it will arrive in time for Christmas.

The Nutcracker ballet is coming to Diamondhead and will be sponsored by the Diamondhead Performing Arts Society.

Tchaikovsky's master work, Nutcracker will be produced by the Jefferson Performing Arts Society and will be performed by the Jefferson Ballet Company.

The date for this great performance is Sunday, Dec. 13 and it will be at the Diamondhead Country Club. Curtain time is 5 p.m.

I am told there will be a superb cast of dancers and this will ensure an outstanding and beautiful presentation.

Adult admission is $12.50 and $9.50 for children under age 13.

Tickets may be obtained by sending a check and self addressed, stamped envelope to: Diamondhead Performing Arts Society, 443 Yacht Club Drive, Suite 701, Diamondhead, MS. 39525, or for further information, contact Carol Novak, 255-6042.

THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

From the Mississippi Economic Council

Pointing to the river

After more than a year, Americans can finally lean back and relax, turning on their TVs to hear the results of the latest football games instead of the results of the latest polls. The endless litany of sound bites and character attacks are over for now.

This week will produce many winners, and many losers, in the multitude of races for political office. From coast to coast, experts in voting patterns will analyze who voted for whom and why, which issues the races turned on, the size of the voter turnout, and what the future holds for American politics.

No matter who wins, the American public should be relieved that another election cycle is over. There is definitely a limit to the amount of name calling we can stand in a given time period.

Our collective attention, after a brief vacation, will be refocused in January on the inauguration of a new President, the convening of a new Congress and the business of taking care of the country's needs.

As a nation, however, we should not stand back and expect our elected officials to take care of the problems. It is our right and our duty to play an active role in our government by offering our advice, our criticism, our demands and our guidance.

Nikita Khrushchev, of all people, made it all very simple when he stated, "Politicians are the same all over. They promise to build a bridge where there is no river."

We're all aware of the need for bridges. And now that the promises have been made, it's our job to point the politicians toward the river.

IN CONGRESS

By Rep. Gene Taylor

Congress approves billions for south Mississippi

Congress hammered out several spending bills during the last few days of the 102nd Congress that will ensure that south Mississippi's defense industry remains one of the strongest in the nation.

Besides Ingalls Shipbuilding being assured a $1.2 billion contract to build one LHD amphibious assault ship, the shipbuilder will most likely win two of four Aegis Destroyer contracts valued at over $3 billion. Mississippi's small and medium size shipyards such as Halter Trinity and Avondale, will also have the opportunity to bid on contracts totaling more than $250 million to build and repair coastal mine hunters and oceanographic ships.

Obviously, I am pleased that south Mississippi's shipbuilders have done so well in recent years while their competitors struggle to survive recession and foreign shipbuilding subsidies.

Despite deep cuts urged by both Pentagon and Administration officials in March of this year, most of Mississippi's National Guard and reserve units will be protected from the budget ax. I am thankful my colleagues and I on the House Armed Services Committee drafted legislation early on which eliminated 90 percent of the Administration's proposed cuts. Because of the House Armed Services Committee's quick action, this year's defense cuts will have little effect on Mississippi's Guard and reserve armories.

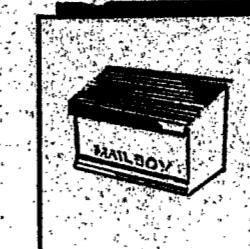

Many of south Mississippi's military facilities will experience building upgrades and new construction. Keesler Air Force Base's "triangle" dormitories will soon receive a complete overhaul of mechanical and electrical systems. The student dormitories which were constructed during the Korean War will be completely modernized over the next few years. Keesler also will begin construction of all new $2.6 million Child Development Center and $6.4 million Visual Information Training facility. Camp Shelby, just south of Hattiesburg, also will see new construction. The $21.2 million authorized in new construction will include tank repair facilities and road improvements.

South Mississippi's three remaining bases, Naval Station Pascagoula, Naval Construction Battalion Gulfport and the Air National Guard Base in Gulfport all remain fully funded and should all experience steady growth throughout the year.

At the same time, drug interdiction activities were addressed by the Defense bill. The bill authorized $1.3 billion for the military to assist local and state governments combat the "War on Drugs." Because of this funding, the Gulf States Counter-Narcotic Initiative, located in Meridian, will continue to play a key role in apprehending drug criminals throughout the Southeast United States.

Of course, I am pleased south Mississippi was fortunate enough to receive authorization to implement new defense programs and to continue those that have worked flawlessly year after year. Moreover, I am optimistic that our military bases, defense contractors and military personnel are strongly poised for the future. They have all done an outstanding job of rounding out their missions in a way that assures they will be able to meet the demands of the nation's defense needs well into the 21st century.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Head lice epidemic needs affordable solution

To the Editor:

The head lice explosion is past terrible here in Mississippi.

"Nix" that required a prescription can now be bought over the counter. It is very expensive, $9.58 for one treatment.

For a large family, this is not affordable.

It's not fair to the children who are trying to have clean heads. No sooner than the heads are clean, the same problem arises.

Can the state offer some type of free medication, or give us a name of a product less expensive but good?

This is most urgently needed!

Tired of fighting head lice.

A concerned citizen.

CONSUMER TIPS

Charitable giving

Good charities need your help. However, before giving, make sure that a charity deserves your contribution by following these tips for informed giving:

1. Know your charity: Do not be tricked by an impressive sounding name or one that is similar to a well-known charity. Too many "charities" try to take advantage of another charity's good name and reputation by using an almost identical name, symbol or logo.

2. Know how your money is spent: Before giving, ask for and read printed materials about the charity's finances and programs. Find out how much of your donation goes to program services as opposed to fundraising and administrative expenses. All charities should have a printed annual report which includes this information.

3. Telephone solicitors: Because telephone solicitations typically are conducted by paid professional fundraisers on behalf of the charity, ask the caller if he is paid or a volunteer and how much the charity receives of each dollar donated.

4. Door-to-door solicitors: Demand identification. Do not feel pressured by the person at your door—the best policy is to mail your donation directly to the charity.

5. Do not be pressured into giving: Take time to think about your donation. High pressure tactics and sob stories often are the signs of unscrupulous operators.

6. Method of payment: If you decide to contribute, pay by check. Make the check out to the charity, not to a company or the individual collecting the donation.

IN AND AROUND DIAMONDHEAD

By Margaret Williamson

CHRISTMAS SHOW

The fourth annual Diamondhead Merchants Christmas Show will be held in cooperation with the Diamondhead Business and Professional Association at 6 p.m., Thursday, Dec. 3 at the Days Inn.

All Diamondhead merchants have been invited to exhibit their products or services and many local restaurants will offer "finger foods" typical to their establishments. There will be a poolside fashion show featuring both adults and children as models. Door prizes will be awarded.

DBPA

Hancock Medical Center administrator Don Henderson was the featured speaker at the Nov. 19 meeting of the Diamondhead Business and Professional Association at the Days Inn.

Henderson showed a rendering of the proposed 5,000 sq. ft. medical clinic planned for the wooded site just north of the nursing home facility on Gex Drive. The entrance will feature the same royal blue roof prominent at HMC. Also on display were a site plan and floor plan of the clinic.

Construction is to begin in late January with completion scheduled for early spring. The clinic will house a full time family practitioner with space available part time for specialists in orthopedics, obstetrics and gynecology and ear, eye, nose and throat. Henderson said other specialists will be added in the near future.

RELIEVING STRESS

There are many ways to relieve stress...one of the little known methods is reflexology.

Reflexology centers around the belief that there are reflex areas in the hands and feet which correspond with the glands, organs and other parts of the body.

Using the thumb and fingers on the reflex areas is thought to relieve stress and tension, improve the blood supply and promote unblocking of nerve impulses through reflexology.

Sandra Beaudoin, Diamond-

head resident, has practiced reflexology for 20 years. In the Jefferson Parish School System she was an instructor with the Flag and Rifle and Drum and Bugle Corps, where she found this therapy extremely beneficial. For more information, call Sandra at 255-4793.

LITTER FREE BY '93

Diamondhead residents: Do you recognize Kapalama Drive minus the trash and litter? This is the road leading out of Diamondhead to the Kiln-DeLisle Road.

The People Against Litter's (PAL) efforts are paying off. The chairman of this project sponsored by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce is Carol Vegas. She and her committee are a dedicated, hard working group are determined to meet their goal of "Litter Free by '93."

Volunteers are welcome to adopt a street, road or carry a litter bag when you walk or ride in your golf cart.

Do your part...Call Bob Valigovsky, Diamondhead coordinator at 255-7198.

DOLL'S TEA PARTY

The Sew and Sew Club is a group of ladies who meet at different homes in Diamondhead every Monday morning. Each one works on handwork that she enjoys.

As the holidays draw near, the club and some of the ladies of the church are dressing dolls for the Salvation Army. They turn out some 90 dolls each year.

Come, meet the mommies, and see the beautiful work they do at a Tea Party at the Community Center on December 2 at 2 p.m. Margaret Arnos, Marge Pfugfelder and Kay Gex are chairmen.

Tips On Writing EFFECTIVE Classified Ads

• STICK TO THE FACTS
Prospective buyers need to know details, like the condition of the item for sale, the size, brand name, color and any other relevant information that would help them make a decision.

• BE HONEST

Avoid from being unethical, exaggerating or misinforming potential buyers. It's not a good idea to make a sale, and may only serve to lose a prospective buyer's trust. Even if they come to look at what you have to sell, they'll be less likely to buy the item or trust you once they see they've been misled.

• SPELL IT OUT

Abbreviations are not easily understood by many people and may confuse a reader. It only takes them a second to pass over an ad because it doesn't seem clear, why let it be yours because you abbreviated a description?

• THE BOTTOM LINE

State the price. You'll save yourself the hassle of having to answer calls from prospects who, upon learning the price, are not really interested. Price is the first thing they'll look for when reading your ad, and when prospects know the price, you'll know you have a serious buyer on the line.

• BE THERE

List the best hours to call and make sure you're at home. If you don't list a specific time, you could be flooded with calls any time of the day or night. And when you're not at home to take calls, most likely, they won't be back.

• ASK US

If you aren't sure how to word your ad or what features to include, why not ask us? Our professionals on staff know how to create an effective ad that sells, they're always willing to help, and there's no charge!

Puppet theatre

By T. H. "Doc" Tounps
Puppeteers Peter Zapletal and JoAnn Robinson treated area elementary school students to a production of "The Fisherman and His Wife" Monday at the Bay High School auditorium. The play was sponsored by the Mississippi Arts Commission.

Zapletal and his wife, Jarmila, run the Puppet Arts Theatre of Jackson and are originally from Czechoslovakia. The Zapletals hand-made all of their puppets and only last year brought Ms. Robinson into the regionally touring troupe.

They frequently ask children in the audience to come on stage and "help" with the show.

ARTIN' ABOUT

Art exhibits:

November art exhibits at Hillyer House in Pass Christian include: "French Quarter" original watercolors by Bay St. Louis artist Barbara Quigley; Walter Anderson "Sea Shells" stain glass panel by Rosalie Senteno; "Nature" design pottery collection by Caryn Reynolds of California; blown glass sculpture jewelry by Jill Roland of Idaho.

Mysteria:

Serenity Gallery, 126½ Main Street in Bay St. Louis, will host an opening reception for the "Mysteria" group show November 29, 2-5 p.m. The show will run through December 31.

"Mysteria" is a collaboration of three of the Coast's most popular artists: Brenda Randolph, Tony Eccles and Kat Fitzpatrick. Jim Ballard has created special music to reflect the theme of the show and will perform it at the opening.

The Nutcracker:

The Coast Youth Ballet Ensemble will offer an encore matinee of The Nutcracker, according to artistic director Sharon Loiacano. The presentation will feature guest artists Elizabeth McCoyd and Mateo Torres of the Nashville Ballet Company on Sunday, December 6 at 1 p.m. at the Bay High auditorium. For reservations, call 466-2625 or 467-4601.

Submissions to Artin' About should be sent to The Sea Coast Echo, P.O. Box 2009, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520. Notices will be edited and published on a space-available basis.

OLA kicks off season

Special to the Echo

Our Lady Academy started their season booting their way to a one-win/one-loss split.

OLA opened up against Resurrection Catholic School on Monday night blanking the Lady Eagles 6-0. The OLA Crescents started their attack with an early goal, and by halftime shot their way to a 5-0 lead. The Lady Eagles tightened their defensive posture the second half only allowing OLA to score one additional goal.

Marion Labat, Monica Mailho and Andrea Platz each scored a goal. Annette Morel scored one goal and had two assists. Nicole Krost scored two goals with one assist.

Resurrection was held to no shots on goal by the outstanding defensive play of Amy Lee, Sharon Bradley, Gwyn Krost and Jonna Ellis.

OLA lost their second game to Long Beach High School 3-1. The Crescents quieted the Long Beach fans with a goal in the second half.

Julie Henderson, Tina Niolet and Amy McDonough each scored a goal for Long Beach. OLA's only goal came from Caroline Weems.

Harry Hull, athletic director of OLA, was pleased with the team's debut.

"This year's team has more talent, I believe, than any that I have seen come through here," said Hull. "With a little more work I think that we can produce the best season record in the school's history."

SSC junior basketball teams defeat Hancock

All three of St. Stanislaus' junior varsity basketball teams defeated Hancock this week, giving SSC's 8th grade team its first season win.

The 9th grade team moves to 2-3 for the season, following the Tuesday 44-26 run.

Top scorers during the 9th grade game were: Wes Pugh (SSC) with 11 points; Corey Gex (SSC) with 7 points; and Craig Ahlers (HHS) with 6 points.

The 8th grade victory Monday came with an SSC lead at first 20 seconds of the game. But the Lady Bearcats soon retaliated with two goals prior to the intermission.

Our Lady Academy applied constant pressure on Long Beach even replacing defenders with attackers in an attempt to score the equalizer. However, with five minutes left in the match, the Bearcats took away OLA's hopes by slipping a goal past Beth Dillenkoffer, whose play was nearly flawless the second half.

Marion Labat, Monica Mailho and Andrea Platz each scored a goal. Annette Morel scored one goal and had two assists. Nicole Krost scored two goals with one assist.

Resurrection was held to no shots on goal by the outstanding defensive play of Amy Lee, Sharon Bradley, Gwyn Krost and Jonna Ellis.

FISHIN' Y'ALL

By Jim Maness

Biloxi Bayou, Louisiana marsh are hot fishing spots this week

It's time to go fishin' y'all.

Terribilis awfulus or should I say awfulus terribilis, or maybe I should just say that the weather had been bad, rotten, abysmal and otherwise not good.

The weather the past few weeks has limited the fishing reports to slim and none.

However, the Turtle is reliably informed that the fishing in the

Louisiana marsh is nothing short of spectacular.

That means that a lot of fish are being caught in the Louisiana

marsh area, especially inside the Bayou Biloxi system. I am talking about limits of trout and reds in post haste time.

It seems that the trout and reds and going hog wild over gold spoons and plastic cacehoes in grey with red flecks.

Yes, for those live bait fishermen they are hitting on live cacehoes and live shrimp. But all reports indicate the "haute cuisine" for the larger trout and reds has been the artificials.

Now, how do you get to the Biloxi Bayou marsh area? It helps to have a boat. In view of the weather conditions lately, I would suggest a large boat. In fact on some of the bad weather days of late an aircraft carrier or a battleship might be too small.

Really, you should not attempt to cross the open water to the Louisiana marsh unless you have a substantial hull under you with a reliable engine.

By all means, leave a float plan with your family and the launch operators as a precaution before you head out to the open sea.

I am not suggesting this to scare anyone; on the contrary, a float plan just makes good sense, especially this time of the year when the weather can change very rapidly and create problems for the fisherman that can take the fun out of a fishing trip.

Let's see, I think I was talking about how to get to Bayou Biloxi before I got sidetracked about otherthings. Turtles tend to become sidetracked a lot.

To get to Bayou Biloxi from LaFrance, take a compass heading of 154 to the western tip of Half Moon Island (the point of Bambus Bend). Then take a compass heading of about 185. This should take you to the mouth of Biloxi Bayou. The bayou will be about one mile to the west of Blind Pass.

For those folks who use Loran, the numbers from the western tip of Half Moon Island are 7980 W-11900.

It is always a good idea to get a good map of this area before you go out into open water.

The turtle is finally over his cold, I think.

Happy Thanksgivin', Turtle.

On to other areas. The ever-reliable Ringo informs me that some folks are catching a few trout in Bayou Caddy using the "slow troll" method in the bayou.

It seems that most of the trout are biting on plastic cacehoes (grey with a fire tail) pulled slowly behind a boat.

The best depth seems to be

NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE FORECAST

Thursday, Nov. 26

DALLAS 32 N.Y. GIANTS 25
The Cowboys held off the Giants 34-28 in the second week of the season, nearly blowing a 34-0 lead. N.Y. warmed up for Dallas against Denver and Philly; next week the Giants face Washington.

HOUSTON 24 DETROIT 18
In their last meeting three years ago, Houston won an offensive battle, 35-31. As poorly as the Lions have played this year, they're just the sort of pesky team that gives the Oilers fits.

Sunday, Nov. 29

ATLANTA 17 NEW ENGLAND 9
The worst of the AFC East vs. the worst of the NFC West; in what will probably be an exciting game, since neither team does defense. They last played in 1989, when the Falcons won 16-15.

BUFFALO 33 INDIANAPOLIS ... 14
Buffalo took no prisoners in a 38-0 rout of the Colts in week three, led by defensive back Henry Jones's two interception returns for TDs. Battling Miami in the AFC East, Buffalo can't let up.

CHICAGO 28 CLEVELAND 27
This one's almost too close to call, especially with the Browns at home—where they've beaten the Bears twice in a row, including the last time they met, three years ago.

GREEN BAY 20 TAMPA BAY 17
Back in September the Buccaneers bombed the Packers 31-3, when Vinnie Testaverde completed 22 of 25 passes for 363 yards and ended Green Bay's three-game winning streak against the Bucs.

KANSAS CITY 27 N.Y. JETS 19
When the Chiefs and Jets last played, in 1988, the Chiefs won 38-34. This year only K.C. seems capable of scoring that many points as it tries to stay within striking distance of Denver.

MINNESOTA 30 L.A. RAMS 26
Minnesota has won four straight from the Rams, including last year's 20-14 win. The Vikings, about to face Philadelphia, S.F. and Pittsburgh, better take a deep breath while they can.

NEW ORLEANS 28 MIAMI 25
The game of the week, between teams that haven't played in six years. The key will be how well Miami's powerful but unpredictable offense does against the Saints' stingy defense.

PITTSBURGH 24 CINCINNATI 13
Six weeks ago Pittsburgh's offense was sputtering, but the Steelers still shut down the Bengals 20-0. Since then Pittsburgh has improved almost every phase of its game; Cincy is overmatched.

SAN DIEGO 21 L.A. RAIDERS 20
The Chargers and Raiders split their two games in 1991, but that's unlikely this season—not with San Diego catching fire and L.A. continuing to struggle. They'll play again in three weeks.

WASHINGTON 26 PHOENIX 23
Washington will continue to tighten up the top of the NFC East, at the expense of the bottom. The Redskins can't wait to avenge their shocking 27-24 loss to the Cardinals in October.

Monday, Nov. 30

DENVER 30 SEATTLE 10
Last year the Broncos won one (16-10) and the Seahawks won one (13-10), but Denver can't afford another split this up-and-down season. These two will also play again in three weeks.

C. B. Murphy students dress as favorite characters

By T. H. "Doc" Toups

The students of Charles B. Murphy Elementary School in Pearlington celebrated National Children's Book Week in conjunction with American Education Week with a costume contest and readings of classic children's storybooks.

During the first two days of this week, area business sponsors sent representatives to come to the school and read to the kids. Sponsors included GE Plastics, Williams Construction Company, Rocketdyne, Johnson Controls and the Hancock County Sheriff's Office.

Wednesday was story-book character day when students and faculty members dressed as their favorite make-believe personalities. Even the cafeteria workers were drawn into the fun and donned costumes as they dished out performances of Cinderella, The Hare and the Tortoise and Peter Pan.

Satellite pinpoints locations throughout state

A new "eye-in-the-sky" way to pinpoint exact locations, that can save Mississippians time, money, property and lives, is coming to the state for the first time through the efforts of NASA and the John C. Stennis Space Center.

A High Accuracy Reference Network, or HARN, is being established throughout Mississippi. The HARN uses data received from a system of satellites in orbit 12,550 miles (20,080 kilometers) above Earth in conjunction with specific sites located on the ground to provide more consistent location—latitude, longitude and altitude—coordinates.

"NASA and Stennis Space Center are excited about bringing this technology to the residents of Mississippi. The space agency is committed to a vigorous technology transfer program," said NASA's Chuck Hill, acting chief of the Science and Technology Laboratory's Technology Utilization and Applications Division at Stennis.

"Once the system is in place, the Mississippi HARN will provide NASA, the state and private industry with the basic reference sites and controls necessary to support a host of research and operational applications benefiting all parties concerned," Hill explained.

Upon implementation, the network will help provide positional information of greater precision to state and local governments, surveyors, businesses and even pilots and boaters. It could also be used to prevent flooding and to help barges navigate narrow channels.

HOW A HARN WORKS

A system of satellites, called the Global Positioning System (GPS), works hand-in-hand with predetermined sites on the ground located around the state to provide the information required to establish a High Accuracy Reference Network.

Specific sites, 200 to 75 miles (32 to 120 kilometers) apart, will be selected throughout Mississippi in the coming months. A certain site is selected because its location is easily accessible and has no hindrances, such as trees and buildings, that would interfere with the satellites' signals.

When at least four satellites that make up the 21-satellite Global Positioning System are in view of the ground site, the receiver at that site will collect the signals transmitted from the satellites. The receiver then stores the data and converts it to determine the exact location of the site.

The Global Positioning System is a powerful tool in calculating locations with incredible accuracy, anywhere on Earth, 24 hours a day.

During Desert Storm, the Allied Forces relied on the accuracy of the smart bombs in helping to accomplish their mission. They were successful because they were able to pinpoint targets with amazing precision.

The Global Positioning System assisted in these efforts by providing our military forces with the technology needed to deliver their payloads and to deploy their troops.

With today's integrated circuit technology, GPS receivers are fast becoming small enough and affordable that, within a few years, they could be carried by just about anyone.

Potential users include farmers, police officers, pilots, hikers, delivery drivers, dispatchers and surveyors. Car manufacturers are presently testing prototypes of electronic maps that will instantly show the way to any destination, eliminating the need to stop and ask for directions. Within the next decade, the service that the GPS provides could become as basic as today's telephone.

HOW A HARN WILL BE USED

Once the latitude and longitude of a particular site is determined by the GPS receiver, all other points can be accurately determined relative to that one site by using the HARN.

Knowing precisely the location of locations of specific points in the state can provide help in many different ways, the most immediate of which is land surveying.

The standard method of surveying land is time consuming and, at times, not very precise. Today's needs require that land being surveyed be done as accurately and as quickly as possible.

A couple of months ago, a 1,600-square-foot home in the Greenwich Village area of New York City sold for $425,000. In the Big Apple, as in other areas of the nation, accuracy is crucial in surveying land. Because of the price of land in New York City, a survey that is off by just several feet can be quite expensive in lost money and property.

Using precision GPS receivers, the High Accuracy Reference Network provides accuracy to within one foot. With the onset of a HARN in Mississippi, surveys will be done quicker, more efficiently and at less cost than current methods.

Information derived using a HARN can provide more accurate tax assessments. It can also be helpful in settling land disputes.

Local government planners can use the data provided by a HARN for flood zoning. The network can help establish with greater precision which areas will flood and take the necessary precautions to protect lives and property.

Boaters and pilots would find the HARN useful as well. Boaters lost in the open water could use a Global Positioning System receiver to determine their location and find the way back to port.

Boaters could also use the HARN to help navigating Mississippi's shallow waters. Through the HARN, pilots would receive more accurate information for aircraft landings.

BRINGING THE SYSTEM

TO MISSISSIPPI

The High Accuracy Reference Network is a program sponsored by the National Geodetic Survey. Currently, 30 of the 50 states have established or are in the process of establishing HARNs.

The inclusion of a HARN in Mississippi will complete the region-wide network for all Gulf Coast states, since HARNs have already been set up in Texas, Louisiana, Alabama and Florida.

Stennis Space Center's Science and Technology Laboratory is bringing national, state and local government officials and private businesses together so the existing reference network can be upgraded and a High Accuracy Reference Network can be established statewide. The Mississippi HARN should be fully implemented by late spring of 1993.

This technology transfer effort is sponsored by NASA's Office of Commercial Programs in Washington, D.C., and marks the first time a federal agency led a venture to design and support HARN development in a state.

Copyright information offered at library

Applications for copyright renewal and the "Copyright Basics" brochure are now available at the Hancock County Public Library.

On June 26, 1992, President Bush signed Public Law 102-307, which amends the Copyright Law to extend automatically the term of copyrights secured between January 1, 1964 and December 31, 1977, to a further term of 47 years and increases the filing fee from $12 to $20. This fee increase applies to all renewal applications filed on or after June 29, 1992.

The Copyright Act of 1909 provided for a 28-year term of copyright that could be extended for an additional renewal term provided that a renewal registration was made during the last (28th) year of the original term.

Failure to make the timely renewal registration resulted in loss of copyright protection at the end of the 28th year.

Public Law 102-307 makes renewal registration optional.

The term of copyright in works published or copyrighted between January 1, 1964, and December 31, 1977 is 75 years. There is no need to make the renewal filing in order to extend the original 28-year copyright term to the full 75 years.

However, there are some benefits to making a renewal registration during the 28th years of original term. The primary benefits are that the renewal copyright will vest in the name of the renewal claimant on the effective date of the renewal registration.

The renewal registration will constitute prima facie evidence as to the validity of the facts stated in the renewal certificate and the copyright in the renewed and extended term. And the right to utilize the derivative work in the extended term will be affected.

The forms available at the Hancock County Library may

LPN scholarships offered by MHCA

The State Department of Education announced the time limited scholarship program for practical nursing students at the Community and Junior College level will be funded by the Mississippi Health Care Association.

The tuition reimbursement scholarships are given through the Health Occupations Education Advisory Board and the student organization-Health Occupation Students of America (HOSA).

The tuition reimbursement scholarships will be awarded to students enrolled in a practical nursing program. Students who receive scholarships will sign a contract with a nursing home for one year as repayment of the funds. For more information contact Gail Caraway at 359-3461.

CONSUMER UPDATE

Don't be taken by fraudulent job offers

By Janet K. Lukens
Area consumer money
management specialist

If a job opportunity in the want ads sounds too good to be true, it probably is. Dishonest companies tempt job seekers with two kinds of offers: employment services and work-at-home schemes.

Fraudulent employment services promise nonexistent jobs, such as employment abroad, skilled jobs requiring no experience, and jobs with six-figure salaries.

Or, they may charge you for information and counseling that you can get free from other places, such as the local employment office.

Never send money through the mail for employment assistance. Even if the company offers a guarantee or a refund, you can't be sure the company will respond or even be there when you want your money back.

Licensed agencies have a general manager who has passed a state examination. The license has to be posted in the office where you can see it.

The agency must give you a copy of your contract stating the fees you will be charged, how long you will have to pay and the method of payment.

Be sure to read your contract carefully and understand all the terms included in it.

Fraudulent work-at-home offers sound easy and rewarding by promising large sums of money for a few hours of work. But, they are designed to take your cash and give little or nothing in return.

One of the more common work-at-home offers is for part-time work stuffing envelopes. You send money to get information about the job, but once you pay the fee you find the company is not offering work.

A different scheme offers cash in exchange for goods produced at home. You buy the materials from the company to make the goods, and then mail the finished product to them.

The company may then refuse to buy the finished goods, saying they are not up to standard. You lose the money spent on materials and postage, and the company has made its profit selling you the materials.

Other schemes involve setting up a business operated from home, such as selling cards, bronzing baby shoes or raising small animals. They all require a large investment to buy material and equipment from the company with no guarantee that customers will want to buy the goods.

Ads promising large amounts of cash in exchange for work done at home rarely deliver what they promise. A few work-at-home offers are legitimate, and honest companies will be willing to give information about their opportunities before you send a fee or make an investment.

Magna Bancorp announces dividend

Magna Bancorp has declared a 20 percent stock dividend payable on or about November 26, 1992, to shareholders of record on November 11, 1992. Under the terms of this stock dividend, Magna Bancorp's shareholders will receive a dividend of one share for every five shares held on the record date.

Fractional shares created by the stock dividend will be rounded and paid in whole shares. Shares of .50 or more will be rounded up and fractional shares of less than .50 will be rounded down. The dividend will be paid in authorized but unissued shares of common stock of the company.

The company anticipates that the outstanding shares of common stock after the dividend will be increased from approximately 1,456,400 to approximately 1,747,700.

How to Cook a Turkey...

Charles B. Murphy Elementary

First you get something to put a turkey in. Then put it in the oven. And let it bake for 5 minutes. Then take it out. Stuffing is made like this. Get the pan put it in the pan. Then put it in the oven. Let it sit for a while in the oven. Then when it's finished take it out. Punkin pie put it in the pie pan put the doge in the pan. Then put the punken on top of the doge. Put it in the oven. Let it sit in the oven a while.

Kendra McArthur

You get some corn and peas. And cook them. And if you have an uvan, you put the turkey in it and every 5 minutes you check it and put butter on it.

Virginia Sims

My mom is going to make turkey. And she made ham and gravy. It was good. And the dressing. It was very very good.

Alicia Acker

Stuff the turkey
Cook the turkey
Eat the turkey

Ashley Bruns

You put it in the oven. Then cook it.

Jonathan Frazier

First you put it in the oven and let it burn.

Michael Payton

On Thanksgiving I will wash the turkey and I will put it in the uvan for awhile. Then I will eat it.

Marcus DeBate

First I put some pepper on it. Then I put some water and some garlik. Then I put it on the stove. And then you get some green unvens and put some on it.

Nicholas Narvaez

Wash it then clean it then put oil on it and put it in the uven. Let it cook for 25 minutes then take it out then eat it yummy.

Latessa Spencer

We have cranberry it's realy good. I think they take water then they take something to make it stick together. Then they take red food color. And we also have potato salad. And I think it's made with pickles and potatoes and peppers and the yoke in a egg. And we have some other stuff but it's to much to write about. But we do have turkey. And I think that they put it in a pan. Then they bake it. Then they put a little of that and a little of this.

Kortney Wilkinson

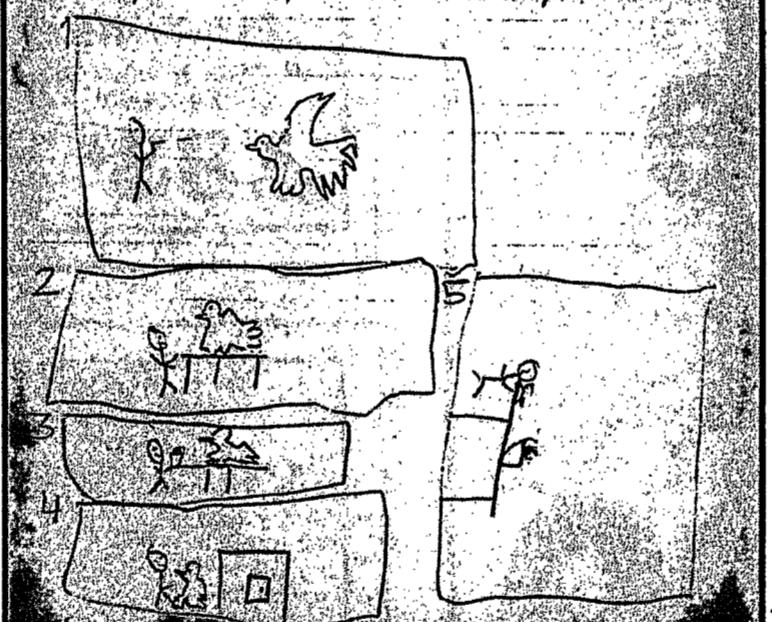

Get a pot and put a turkey in it and put some salt and pepper in it then put it in the uven and let it cook then take it out of the uven and cut it then eat it then it is gone forever.

Jessie Woods

Put it in the uven for 20

Michael Payton

First you kill the Turkey. Then you clean the Turkey. You put Sezzen all over it. Then you cook it. You leave it in the oven for 40 minnits. Then you slice the Turkey. Then you can eat the Turkey.

Chandler's Favorite Turkey Stuffing Recipe

1 extra large turkey given by God
1 large strong kind Dad
1 large, sweet Mom
1 pretty charming sister, Lindsey
1 good-looking brother, Chaz. Put a large portion Chandler's love.
1 very cute and active four-year-old, Courtland
2 loving and adorable 21-month-old boys, MaConnelly and Mackenzie
1 large dose of an angel, McCaulay Miscellaneous ingredients with love, family, and friends. Thanking God for each other and all the little to them. Also thanking God for being God.

Christopher Starnes

The cook is getting the stuffing ready. And Mr. Turkey is getting a weathy.

Oh No! Not the seasoning!

Please, nice cooks lets do some reasoning. That boiling water is no neccesary.

Oh, please kind lady, I'm getting a weathy.

Mmm! The cranberry sauce is nice and sweet. But the water is wrting my feet.

Please, do not eat me... my skin is too hard.

And attantill like mother, you know.

You know my people, stop inventing stories.

Why oh why won't I be a drink?

SUBSTITUTED TRUSTEE'S NOTICE OF SALE

WHEREAS, on the 22nd day of December, 1985, Robert Skene Maloney executed a certain Deed of trust to Joseph W. Gex, Trustee for the benefit of Elmwood Federal Savings and Loan which Deed of trust is of record in the office of the Chancery Clerk of Hancock County, State of Mississippi, at Page 110, Volume 1, Page 1.

WHEREAS, said Deed of trust was subsequently assigned to American Mortgage Company by instrument dated March 31, 1986 and filed for record in Book 360, Page 646 of the Hancock Chancery Clerk's office; and

WHEREAS, Harbor Financial Mortgage Corporation, successor by merger with American Mortgage Company has heretofore substituted J. Gary Massey as Trustee by instrument dated October 20, 1992 and recorded in the Hancock Chancery Clerk's Office in Book 376, Page 102.

WHEREAS, default having been made in the terms and conditions of said Deed of trust and the entire debt secured thereby having been to date due and payable in accordance with the terms of said Deed of trust, Harbor Financial Mortgage Corporation, the holder of said Indebtedness, has substituted the undersigned Substituted Trustee to execute the trust and sell said land and property in accordance with the terms of said Deed of trust and for the purpose of raising the sum due thereunder, together with attorney's fees, trust and other expenses.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, J. Gary Massey, Substituted Trustee in said Deed of trust, will sell at the 10th day of December, 1992 offer for sale at public outcry and sell within legal hours (being between the hours of 11:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m.) at the main door of the Post Office, 100 Main Street, at Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, to the highest and best bidder for cash the following described property situated at Hancock County, State of Mississippi, to-wit:

First: Lots 66 and 65, Third Ward, Town of Waveland, Hancock County, Mississippi, the official plan of said town, as recorded by E. S. Drake, Surveyor, on file in the office of the Chancery Clerk of Hancock County, Mississippi.

Second: Beginning at the intersection of the line between Lots 64 and 65, and the line of Lot 77, the West line of Long Beach, Mississippi, running northward 44 degrees 5 minutes West 181 feet to an iron stake on the South right-of-way line of Fell Street; thence West 50 feet along said line of street to an iron stake; thence S. 68° 45' E. 181 feet to the point of intersection with the line between Lots 66 and 67; thence East 50 feet along the line between Lots 66 and 67; thence East 50 feet to the place of beginning, being a part of Lot 77, Third Ward, Town of Waveland, Hancock County, Mississippi, according to the official plan of town made by E. S. Drake, C.E., and on file in the office of the Chancery Clerk of Hancock County, Mississippi.

I WILL CONVEY one such title as is vested in me as Substituted Trustee.

WITNESS MY SIGNATURE this the 30th day of October, 1992.

An old-time Christmas celebration

Hancock County is proud to present their 3rd annual RED RIBBON CHRISTMAS CELEBRATION. This activity originated to demonstrate community spirit and unity, as well as to entice residents to shop at home. Many activities have been planned to show just what is available in Hancock County.

Many participants have special activities and events planned throughout the month of December. Seymour's Jewelry and Gifts in the MarkeTown Shopping Center in Bay St. Louis will have holiday discounts available to each and every shopper. Be sure to stop by and pick up something for that special someone and take advantage of the holiday specials!

Saturday, December 5, from 10 a.m. until noon, Frank Davis will be signing cookbooks and sampling recipes at Bookends on Hwy. 90 in Bay St. Louis. Bookends will also host an Open House on Saturday, December 12, with special activities throughout the day. Santa will be visiting at Bookends on Saturday, December 19, at 11 a.m. There will be storytelling and pictures with Santa, and refreshments will be served. On Wednesday, December 23, Bookends will extend their hours for last-minute shoppers. The shop will remain open until 8 p.m. and will serve refreshments.

Santa will be very busy this year, as he visits with children at several different locations throughout the area. On Saturday, December 12, at 8 a.m., the Waveland Resort Inn will host Breakfast With Santa. Local children will have the opportunity to eat breakfast with Santa and tell him about their last-minute requests. Tickets are available at the Waveland Resort Inn and the Hancock Chamber of Commerce. The cost is $7.50 for one child plus one adult when purchased in advance, with $3 for each additional child. Tickets purchased at the door will be $10, with $4 for each additional child. Pictures with Santa will also be available for $2 each. For more information, please check with the Chamber office at 412 Hwy. 90, #6 Colonial Plaza in Bay St. Louis, 467-9048.

Christmas is the time for sharing, and the Chamber Office will serve as a collection point for items for the Toy and Doll Fund, or non-perishable goods for the Food Pantry. You and your family may bring items by the Chamber Office at 412 Hwy. 90, #6 Colonial Plaza in Bay St. Louis until December 15.

The wide variety of community activities are planned to provide fun and entertainment for the entire family. There will be parades, trolley rides, open houses, and church tours guaranteed to please everyone. Come out and join in the fun and help us spread a little Christmas Cheer!

Stockings

Whether they are long or short, fancy or plain, what matters is that the stockings are hung with care! The custom of hanging up stockings for Santa Claus to fill on Christmas Eve seems to be most prevalent in England and the United States. Chinese children hang special muslin ones up for Lam Khoong Khoong (Nice Old Father).

French and Dutch children leave shoes or slippers out for St. Nicholas to fill on December 6. Italians leave theirs on Epiphany Eve in January for the good witch, Befana, who flies down the chimney on her broomstick.

Alas! Each of these legends carries with it the possibility of disaster for children who have misbehaved throughout the year. St. Nicholas may leave switches, Santa Claus has been known to leave lumps of coal, and Befana drops charcoal, rocks and ash. So, "...You'd better watch out!..."

Santa's Shop, just for the little ones

Bay St. Louis merchants have organized a wonderful shopping experience for children on Saturday, December 12, from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. at Santa's Shop, located in the "Little Theatre" room at the Olde Towne Restaurant on Main Street.

Your children may shop unaccompanied by adults, but supervised by the Princess Shoppe Teen Board. All of the gift items are priced $5 and under.

Children have wonderful ideas of what types of gifts are perfect for parents, other family members, teachers, and friends. They notice that you dog-ear your books, love chocolate candies, like fancy earrings or bracelets, or maybe collect tiny Santas.

Santa's shop is a wonderful learning experience for the children and demonstrates the importance of community support and involvement. It is sponsored by the Bay St. Louis Business Association.

Creole delicacies

Looking for something for that hard-to-buy-for individual, or a friend who has moved away?

How about a tin packed full of hand-poured creamy pecan pralines. These delightful treats are in a custom designed tin featuring a New Orleans Riverfront Streetcar and can be shipped anywhere. Handmade by local merchant Candace Strahan's family, the tins are available at Screendoor Graphics, 404 Main Street, Bay St. Louis, throughout the holiday season. Or, if you prefer, you may call their toll free number for mail orders: 1-800-523-6425.

We wish you A Merry Christmas

The custom of sending Christmas cards began in 1843. In the 18th and early 19th century it had been common practice among close friends and relations to send a "Christmas piece." This would consist of a few lines usually written on specially prepared sheets, decorated with borders and scrolls.

In 1843, Sir Henry Cole, the man responsible for making the sketch from which the first postage stamp—the Penny Black—was engraved, suggested the idea of a card to Royal Academician John Horsley.

Horsley thus designed the first Christmas card, and about 1,000 were sold from Felix Summerly's Home Treasury at 12 Old Bond Street.

The availability of improved printing techniques gave the industry the boost it needed, and by 1880, cards had become an established part of Christmas festivities. Initially, the designs had little religious connection (Horsley's original card showed three generations of a family quaffing wine).

Holly and mistletoe were popular themes from as early as 1862, as were snow and the robin, who was always considered a firm friend of man and the symbol of life-giving fire.

One of the many explanations for the robin's red breast was that, on the night of the Nativity, he had fanned the infant Jesus with his wings to spread the warmth of a brazier, but in doing so had burnt his chest.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Little Jack Horner

Little Jack Horner sat in a corner,
Eating a Christmas pie;
He put in his thumb
and pulled out a plum
And said, "What a good boy am I!"

Jack Horner's Plum

Nowadays, Christmas pies are mostly made from fruits. They are rich and spicy, oozing with currants and raisins and sultanas, tangy lemon and orange peel and apples. The plum in Jack Horner's pie was a prune.

The Plum Game

There is a game named after Jack Horner's pie. This is one way to play it. The 'pie' is a big box, or a carton. Hide inside it as many 'plums' as there are players. Each plum is a tiny gift of some kind with an enormously long string tied to it.

The string wanders about the playing area. If it goes under a table then the player must follow it, winding up his string as he goes. If it goes over a chair so does the player.

If it twists and twines about another player's string it must be untangled before he can go on. The string can travel anywhere, all over the house maybe, but it finally ends at the 'pie' box.

The player then pulls out his 'plum' present. It can be something very silly, something to eat, anything you choose. How about a bonbon? You could make some.

Celebrating Christmas 'old town' style

"Old Town" Bay St. Louis is hanging up its red ribbons and rolling out the red carpet for the Christmas holidays. Traditional celebrations and decorations will enhance the "Old Town" area of Main Street and Beach Boulevard.

The lovingly renovated "Old Town" area is a delightful experience any time of the year, but Christmas is really special. Streets are decorated with Christmas cards executed by the local arts community, luminaries are lighted at dusk, and the strength of community is evident.

"Old Town" merchants will have extended hours on Saturday, December 12, until 7 p.m., for annual house parties for customers and guests. You may shop for sophisticated antiques, exquisite crystal, colorful wind socks, food stuffs to delight any palette, books, collectibles, or toys.

December 5, 6, 12, and 19 are the highlight days of Christmas in "Old Town" with the Christmas parade, choir concert, church tours, Santa's Shop, Merchants Open Houses, luminary lighting, and Community Caroling.

If you have forgotten the days when Main Street served as the heart of the city, treat yourself during the holidays. Park your car, walk and remember. Take the time to enjoy the restoration and revitalization of your hometown.

Old Fashioned Bread Pudding

NOT TOO SWEET, BUT OH SO GOOD!

4 cups milk
2/3 cup honey
4 cups coarse, dry bread crumbs
6 eggs

1/2 tsp. salt
2 Tblsp. lemon juice
2 tsp. grated lemon peel
Dash of nutmeg

Heat to scalding milk and honey. Prepare bread cubes, removing crust. Place in a buttered 2-quart casserole and pour milk and honey mixture over top. Beat eggs slightly with salt, blend in lemon juice and lemon peel and add to bread cubes with honey mixture. Sprinkle top with nutmeg. Bake in preheated oven at 300° for 50-60 minutes until custard tests done near center. Makes 8 servings.

Easy Spiced Tea

1 cup instant tea
2 cups Tang
1 cup sugar
1 small packet lemonade mix
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. cloves

Mix well. Use 1-2 teaspoons per cup, fill with hot water. Good cold, also. Store in tightly sealed container.

Party Punch

1/2 cup honey
1 6-oz. can frozen lemonade
3 cups very hot water

Blend above ingredients and let stand until cool. Then mix in 3 cups cranapple juice. Chill and pour into punch bowl. Add 12 oz. of ginger ale. Makes 20 punch-cup servings.

Waveland's Festival Of Lights

The City of Waveland will once again be hosting their Festival Of Lights. Come join the fun and festivities on Sunday, December 6.

The festivities will begin at 5 p.m. with the lighting of the Christmas lights along Coleman Avenue and the arrival of Santa Claus. The St. Rose de Lima Choir will lead off the entertainment at City Hall, followed by the Joy Fellowship Choir, "The Bay Four and After," and then the St. Clare Adult Choir.

There will be strolling carolers all along Coleman Avenue, including "The Mermaids" and Bay-Waveland Junior Scout Troop No. 404. Colby Fabian will be playing the keyboard at the Waveland Library and the Sweet Adelines will provide vocal entertainment. The merchants along Coleman Avenue will host open houses and serve refreshments. Everyone is invited to come celebrate the Holiday Season.

Two trolleys will add to the fun and excitement. One trolley will be taking passengers to view Christmas Card Lane and Christmas Door Lane, departing from Coleman Avenue and Beach Boulevard. A second trolley has been added this year to take passengers to come of the beautifully decorated homes and will depart from Coleman Avenue and Central Avenue.

The festivities will culminate with the lighting of the Christmas Bonfire by Santa Claus at Beach Boulevard and Coleman. Coleman Avenue will be closed to vehicular traffic beginning at 3:30 p.m.

The Festival Of Lights is a truly wonderful Holiday Celebration. Don't miss this delightful opportunity to enjoy the spirit of the season Waveland style!

Happy Holidays

Candles

 Candles have been an important part of winter celebrations for centuries. In Europe, having the oldest member of the household light the Christmas Eve candle has long been a tradition. Near the end of the middle ages, tiered wooden shelves filled with lighted candles were carried in procession through village streets. There is a similar practice in Mexico: placing candles inside brown paper bags weighted with sand to mark the route of religious processions. The bags are known as luminaria.

Hebrew tradition expands the weekly ritual of candle lighting during Hanukkah (Festival of Lights), celebrated in early December. Each evening for eight nights, family members gather to light the menorah, a ceremonial candelabrum. An additional candle is lit each night until all eight burn in remembrance of a miracle.

Swedes observe Saint Lucia's Day, December 13, when the oldest daughter dresses in white, and wearing a crown of candles, awakens the rest of the family to a special breakfast.

Today, many traditions come together as we place electric candles in the window, cluster tapers on the mantle, or light the family advent wreath. All are a reminder of the love, hope and joy of this season.

Yule Log

A great log burning in the fireplace is a widespread Christmas tradition. The logs were often quite large because a single one was to burn for either 12 hours or 12 days, depending on the local practice. After the embers died, a small piece was usually saved to light next year's log.

The English often decorated the cut log with evergreens and sometimes sprinkled it with grain or cider before lighting.

In Yugoslavia, the wood was cut before dawn on Christmas Eve, then carried into the house at dusk. Their decorations could include flowers, silk and gold. Families in southern France carried their yule log three times around the house before sprinkling with wine and setting afire.

BURNING A REAL YULE LOG

Have ready:
a large, open fireplace
dry kindling and small pieces of wood

a "proper" hardwood log
Form a "search party" to hunt for and handle the log itself. Find a large, knotty, damp hardwood log. On Christmas morning, make a hot fire with the kindling and small pieces of wood, then top with the Yule log.

By tradition, as long as the Yule log burns, all non-essential work is to be banned! When it finally does burn out, save a piece of it to start next year's Yule log.

The Legend of The Holly

An ancient Christmas legend tells about the holy night when Jesus blessed the holly, made it ever green and bright.

'Twas when the Holy Family fled in haste from Bethlehem, and heard the tread of soldiers coming in pursuit of them.

There wasn't any time at all to find a hiding place, for Herod's men approached them at a swift and steady pace.

So Mary took her Little One and with a whispered prayer, hid him beneath a holly bush with gentle, loving care.

The wintered holly put forth leaves to hide the Infant King, and grew a guard of slender thorns about him in a ring.

King Herod's soldiers hurried past, and all were unaware. The Infant whom they sought was safe within the holly's care.

The Christ Child blessed the holly then so it would always be forever green — a sign of hope and immortality.

So now, at Christmas, holly plays a very special part because one night it gently held the Christ Child in its heart.

The Snowflake

Before I melt
Come, look at me!
This lovely, icy filigree!
Of a great forest
In one night
I make a wilderness
Of white:
By skyey cold
Of crystals made,
All softly on
Your fingers laid,
I pause, that you

My beauty see:
Breathe, and I vanish
Instantly.
